Other

Are there any other comments you would like to make about the “Minerals and Petroleum Strategy for Aotearoa New Zealand: 2019-2029”?

Avoiding the worst impacts of global warming requires staying within a global carbon budget. Existing known global fossil fuel reserves are already sufficient to exceed this carbon budget. In other words, we cannot afford to extract the fossil fuel reserves that are already known, let alone identify additional reserves for extraction.

Therefore, this strategy should include an immediate halt to fossil fuel exploration in NZ.

NZ contributes only a small part of global emissions. NZ is thus reliant on action by other countries if we are to avoid the worst effects of climate change. To effectively persuade other countries to reduce emissions, NZ must be seen to be a leader in reducing its own emissions.

This strategy should include an aim to rapidly phase out fossil fuel extraction in NZ - within 10 years at the most.
