Vision

Do you agree or disagree with the overall vision for the minerals and petroleum sector in New Zealand?

Neither agree nor disagree

Why?

While I agree that all industries need to be environmentally and socially responsible, New Zealanders need to start looking to other industries to deliver value.

What is your vision for the minerals and petroleum sector in New Zealand?

Most operations should be gradually phased out.

How can New Zealand sustainably derive value from its petroleum and minerals resources?

I do not believe it is possible to sustainably derive value from petroleum and minerals in the long term, as they are finite resources.

Objectives for the minerals and petroleum sector

Objective for a sector that: “Responsibly delivers value for New Zealand (a) Supporting a productive, sustainable and inclusive economy (b) Supporting New Zealand's transition to a carbon neutral economy”.

Strongly agree

Why?

These are excellent goals for the sector, although adhering to these goals will likely result in the eventual demise of many mineral extraction operations.

Objective for a sector that: “Is productive and innovative”.

Agree

Why?

These are great objectives for any sector. However, long-term productivity is not viable in the mineral and petroleum sector as these are finite resources.

Objective for a sector that: “Is effectively regulated”.

Strongly agree

Why?

The interests of individual New Zealanders, and their friends and whanau, should always be put before corporate interests. We need a regulatory body to ensure that is the case.

Are there any other objectives for the minerals and petroleum sector that you would like us to consider in the strategy?
