i love NZ and want to be here for rest of my life with my wife,my wife is on work visa,after seen almost whole NZ,we love southland ,want to be here and this new rules not good,as in hospitality chefs and others hardly paid according to what new rules want for residency,where people are more there should be some strict criteria for residency such as in northisland,in southisland especially in southland there should be extra bonus points and working at same place in skilled job for year or two should be given way to residency instead of increasing threshold

Pls requested not to put new rules on southland workers .||
