Page 7: Growing an innovative and inclusive space sector

Q12

To what extent do you agree or disagree that these policy objectives will help the New Zealand government to grow an innovative and inclusive space sector?

Promoting New Zealand's natural advantage for conducting space activities, and research and development expertise across the space value chain	Strongly agree
Partnering within New Zealand and internationally to increase research and development capabilities	Strongly agree
Identifying opportunities to increase diversity in the space sector	Agree
Using cutting-edge space technology and space sourced data to support New Zealand's values and interests	Neither agree nor disagree

Q13

Do you have any comments on these policy objectives? (e.g. any suggested change to how they are framed? Is there anything missing?)

I'm not sure what you mean by 'inclusive' in the context: it doesn't seem to add anything to policy.

Similarly, I am interpreting the word 'diversity' to refer to the variety of use cases, technologies deployed and products developed in the sector. If the term is intended to be interpreted in the HR sense of increasing the number of people from various identity groups employed in the sector, I don't think that is a sensible policy objective, and could well prove an unhelpful distraction.

Q14

Are there any other policy objectives that you think would help the New Zealand government to grow an innovative and inclusive space sector?

Using New Zealand's individual factor endowment to drive and test use cases for aerospace technology. Examples could include seismic or agricultural monitoring.

Q15

Do you have any questions or comments about what these objectives would mean in practice?

See above.

Q16

To what extent do you agree or disagree that these policy objectives will help the New Zealand government to promote the responsible uses of space internationally?

Advocating for effective international rules, norms and standards in space Strongly agree

Partnering with like-minded launch states to adopt peaceful, responsible and sustainable space practices Neither agree nor disagree

Collaborating internationally to increase New Zealand's influence and capabilities in the global space sector Strongly agree

Q17

Do you have any comments on these policy objectives (e.g. any suggested change to how they are framed? Is there anything missing?)

Doesn't New Zealand enjoy a competitive advantage as a location for launch sites? If we do, we need to be careful about diluting that advantage through collaboration.
