Page 7: Growing an innovative and inclusive space sector

Q12

To what extent do you agree or disagree that these policy objectives will help the New Zealand government to grow an innovative and inclusive space sector?

Promoting New Zealand's natural advantage for conducting space activities, and research and development expertise across the space value chain	Strongly agree
Partnering within New Zealand and internationally to increase research and development capabilities	Strongly agree
Identifying opportunities to increase diversity in the space sector	Strongly agree
Using cutting-edge space technology and space sourced data to support New Zealand's values and interests	Strongly agree

Q13

Do you have any comments on these policy objectives? (e.g. any suggested change to how they are framed? Is there anything missing?)

I think you could also bring in the thread of education as this type of industry supports the high value/high skilled jobs that we want our young people to access.

Are there any other policy objectives that you think would help the New Zealand government to grow an innovative and inclusive space sector?

Q15

Do you have any questions or comments about what these objectives would mean in practice?

Rocket Lab has taken a lead in the education space (pun intended...) with their awesome Space Ambassador and Educator programmes. Government funded organisations like the Science Learning hub have also invested in using space as a context for learning. I think the policy objectives need to incorporate an aspect of education to ensure that we can fill the jobs in this expanding industry.
