Gisborne/Tairāwhiti and Regional Economic Development

- 1. The Tairāwhiti Economic Action Plan (the Action Plan) was launched on Tuesday 28 February 2017. The Action Plan contains four themes:
  - · Growing the legion's primary sector.
  - Attracting talent and capita to the region and growing the region's tourism sector.
  - An proving transport and digital connections.
  - Improving the region's business-friendliness.
- The Action Rep identified Tairāwhiti's opportunity to carve out a significant niche for itself in New Zealand tourism. The Action Plan aimed to capture a proportional share of the value of the New Zealand tourism sector, leading to increased tourism revenues of at least $6,500,000 year on year, as well as 40 new jobs.

Overview of the Proposal

3. The Te Hā proposal relates to Action 5.4 in the Action Plan, which aims to "situate Tairāwhiti as the host of the core Sestercentennial events in 2019 and deliver a series of events of international standard". This work is being led by the Te Hā 1769 Sestercentennial Trust, partnering with Activate Tairāwhiti (the region's economic development agency), iwi, Gisborne District Council, Ministry for Cultural and Heritage (MCH), MBIE, and the Voyaging Trust.

- 4. This proposal commemorates the 250th anniversary of the first meetings between Māori and Europeans (Captain James Cook) on and off the shores of Gisborne/Tairāwhiti. The commemorations will be launched in Gisborne, Anaura Bay and Uawa/Tolaga Bay, three locations where Captain Cook landed in October 1769.
- 5. The planned commemorative events include (but are not limited to): the hosting of the official commemoration national launch and waka hourua, marae-based storytelling, Toi Tu Tairāwhiti (a planned annual Festival of Arts and Culture), and a variety of other community events.
- 6. The full business case for this proposal is attached in Annex 1. The business case has been developed by the region, with support from MBIE, Department of Conservation, MCH and Te Puni Kōkiri (TPK).

How the Proposal Complements Other Commemorative Initiatives

- 7. Action 5.4 (this proposal) is aligned with Action 5.3 in the Action Plan, which aims to redevelop the Cook Landing Site National Historic Reserve in Gisberne. MBIE, through the Regional Growth Initiatives (RGI) Multi-Year Appropriation is investing $1,000,000 into this project. The two projects are linked because the redevelopment of the original cook's landing site is crucial to the outcome of this proposal. However, note that the two projects, while related, are being separately managed.
- 8. This proposal is also linked to Tuia First Encounters 250, a series of national commemorations planned for 2019. Via First Encounters 250 commemorates the first encounters between Māori and Captain Cook in 1769. Tura Eirst Encounters 250 aim to strengthen bicultural understanding, value of indigeneity, and understanding of migration in New Zealand. MCH is partnering with trusts established in Cook's four original landing sites to coordinate the national events note that Gisbome is one of the original landing sites.

Benefits of the Proposal

- 9. The Dusiness case states that the following direct economic outcomes will be achieved as a result of MBIE's investments:
  - 6 new roles directly created as a result of the proposal, as well as increased employment opportunities in the region.

an additional 10,000 visitors to the region for the actual week of commemorations in 2019.

Investment in the proposal also contributes to the Action Plan's goal of growing annual tourism revenues by $6,500,000 year on year.

- 10. The business case also states that the following indirect economic outcomes will be achieved:
  - Memorable commemorative events with national and international exposure.
  - The Tairāwhiti community embracing stories around the First Encounters.
  - Raising the standards of authentic, bicultural tourism experiences.
  - New tourism experiences and new products that can be commercialised.
  - Increased people's capability and capacity in the Tairāwhiti region.

Operating Expenditure and Funding Arrangements of the Proposal

- 11. Total operating expenditure of the project is<sup>9(2)(b)(ii)</sup> A detailed breakdown of operating expenditure details are found in the business case in Annex one.
- 12. If agreed, Government will be contributing $1,000,000, from RGI funding, to cover part of Te Hā's<sup>9(2)(b)(ii)</sup> perating expenditure.
- 13. Government's investments will be allocated as below:

Hosting Te Hā 2019	Voyaging, Events and Festival	Story-telling, Wānanga	Tourism Experience Development
Tairāwhiti manaakitanga	Toi Tu Tairāwhiti – inaugural Festival of Arts and Culture (legacy event)	Marae based storytelling and commemoration	Nevigrations project experience development
Welcoming, feeding, and accommodating guests and whanau – Sestercentennial hosting infrastructure	Sustainable Oceans Symposium	Tairāwhiti Kuseum Kanon Gra	Mahaki 'Skles to the Sea river event
Hosting of national official launch ceremony and waka hourua	Waka/water based	Community story telling d Meeting of the Minds	Waka Hourua tourism experience development (capability and product build for post 2019)
BELLE	Community events over three weeks regacy events baseline, and post event	Content capture for ongoing tourism promotion of Tairāwhiti	Capability building
(2)(ba)()[][][]	research

- 14. The events will go on for one month, from later September to later October 2019. The Te Hā commemorations will kick-start an annual Festival of Arts and Culture from 2019 onwards.
- 15. The remainder of the proposal's operating expenditure comprises of an operating grant from Gisborne District Council, funding from the Eastland Community Trust, and other funding sources, including sponsorships. Further details on how the proposal will be funded are included in the business case (Annex one).

Senior Regional Officials Endorsement

- 16. At the Senior Regional Official group meeting on 7 December 2017, the proposal for the $1,000,000 government investment and the business case were both endorsed. However, the Senior Regional Officials noted that:
  - The proposal is part of other government support for the nation-wide Sestercentennial celebrations in 2019.
  - Officials to ensure there is sufficient trust governance and project management capability to manage the sizeable funding, including the proposed $1,000,000 contribution and all-of-government funding, such as Ministry for Culture and Heritage's contribution.
  - Te Hā Trust consults and gets agreement on the event plans with impand this requirement is included in the funding agreement.

Risk Management

- 17. The projects under the proposal are relatively low risk, as they have been developed collaboratively with central and local government, iwi and the local community and other stakeholders. The projects are also related to the breater rational programme developed and led by MCH. Treasury has also noted that commentoration events are generally low-risk.
- 18. Potential risks identified include management of stakeholder relationships, capability in leading and managing the events, lack of community engagement, and insufficient funding. The business case, attached in Annex one, includes a full list of risks and risk treatments.

Next Steps

19. Following Ministerial approval, officials without de Ministers with monthly progress updates on the proposal at the Ministers' meetings, confirmation of funding and contract signing will take place in around one to two weeks time.

1. EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

1.1 Introduction

This business case has been developed by the Te Hā 1769 Sestercentennial Trust in Tairāwhiti (referred through the document as the Te Hā Trust) to secure the Regional Growth Initiative investment of $1million to Situate Tairāwhiti as the host of the core Sestercentennial events in 2019 and deliver a series of events of international standard.

The Te Hā 1769 Sestercentennial Trust was set up through a series of Gisborne Tairāwhiti community meetings during 2013 which included participants from all lwi and a wide range of other entities and community organisations with an interest in the pending 250th anniversary of the first meetings between Māori and Europeans in October 1769. Participants in the community meetings first nominated persons to form a steering group to draft a proposal for establishing a trust; then endorsed that group to establish the proposed Te Hā 1769 Sestercentennial Trust in October 2013. The Trust's purpose is to co-ordinate programmes to commemorate the 250th anniversary of the first meetings between Māori and Europeans on and off the shores of Gisborne/Tairāwhiti in October 1769, and to eelebrate the feats of our ancestors in exploring the world's largest ocean.

The Te Hā Trust has a strategic vision of:

"Dual Heritage - Shared Futur

He rae ki te rae, he ihu ki te ihu, te hau ka rere, te ho ka tau. A meeting of peoples, a mixing of cultures, a blending of vertage, a sharing of future.

The Trust is working with the Taina whiti community to prepare to the 2019 commemorations, which will be launched nationally in Gisborne/Uuranganui-a-Kiwa, being the first landfall of the Endeavour. Commemorations will also be held in other areas in the region: specifically, Anaura Bay (the second landfall) and Uawa/Tolaga Bay (the third landfall). These landfall events all occurred during October 1769.

National commemorations activity are the responsibility of the Ministry for Culture and Heritage (MCH) which has established a National Coordinating Committee which includes the four trusts in New Zealand associated with the commemorations, on which the Te Hā 1769 Sestercentennial Trust (Tairāwhiti) is represented.

The national commemorations launch activities are a small part of the Tairāwhiti Sestercentennial programme of events and commemorations, which deliver a broader and more encompassing programme of events and development of initiatives focused on generating long-term value and legacies, including tourism growth.

1.2 Mandate

In 2014, Cabinet agreed to recognise the 250th anniversary of the first meetings between Māori and Europeans as a major national Tier 1 commemoration in 2019. In so doing, Cabinet also recognised that Gisborne and Tairāwhiti have a special position as the first landing site of Cook, Tupaia and others on the Endeavour, and will be the place where commemorations of this historic event will begin in 2019.

As part of the formal national launch by the Governor General of the Te Hā Trust in June 2014, the Minister for Arts, Culture and Heritage also announced that Cabinet had recognised the Te Hā 1769 Sestercentennial Trust as the co-ordinating body for the 250th commemorations in Gisborne and Tairāwhiti.

The Te Hā Trust is the lead organisation to complete this business case - in partnership with lwi, Activate Tairāwhiti, Gisborne District Council, Tairāwhiti Voyaging Trust, MCH, TPK and MBIE. This project was approved by the Tairāwhiti REAP Steering Group and accepted by Government with funding approved in the principle as an action within the Gisborne-Tairāwhiti Economic Action Plan. The Te Hā Trust was identified as the lead agency for this project in its role as the coordinating body in the region for the commemorations.

The rationale behind this project is two-fold:

- Firstly, the region wants to showcase itself as the place that first meetings between Māori and Europeans took place, and to do so by delivering a broad programme of regional and community events that national funding for commemorations could not support; and
- Secondly, the region recognised that the commemorations would be an excellent opportunity to showcase the region nationally and internationally, and in so doing increase visitor numbers and tourism growth and investment.

Ministers agreed to fund in principle, through the Regional Growth Programme, events that would not funded otherwise through national funding (national funding being determined by MCH).

1.3 The Project - Te Hā 1769 Tairāwhiti Sestercentennial Commerciations

This project sits alongside 5.3 of the Tairāwhiti Economic Action Plan (TEAP) as it relates to 'completion of the Cook Landing Site and iwi encounters project to kink to the Navigations Project which is led by the Department of Conservation and Gisborne District Council with Ngati Oneone and MCH. While separate initiatives, both contribute to Tairāwhiti's positioning as the official launch of the Sestercentennial commemorations.

Below is a topline overview of the proposed project investment. Further details on each of these elements are included on page 18, and in the strategic Case on pages 9 and 10 of this business case.

The balance of funding required will be provided by:

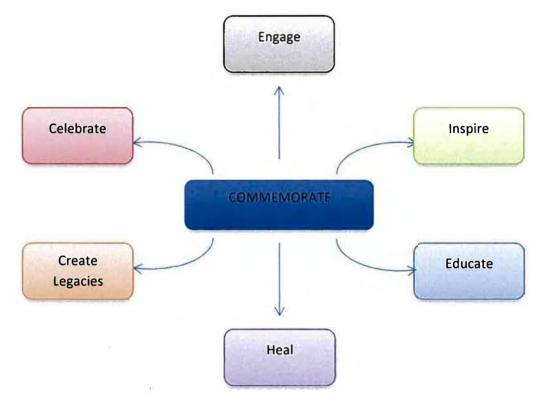

- The Ministry for Culture and Heritage (as it relates to the leadership and management of the official central government events to launch the national commemoration and voyaging programmes);
- Local funding organisations such as the Eastland Community Trust (ECT);

- The Gisborne District Council, via MOU and Funding Agreement with the Te Hā 1769 Sestercentennial Trust;
- Sponsorship and fundraising; and
- Local lwi/mana whenua and community organisations investment of time and resources.

The Te Ha Trust's mission is to:

- Engage and inspire communities to understand and share the stories of our unique place and people that shaped our nation;
- Commemorate the first meetings between Māori and Europeans on the 250th Anniversary in October 2019; and
- Create legacies to enhance the wellbeing of future generations.

The essence of the Te Hā Trust's mission is represented in the diagram below.

This project, as led by the Te Hā Trust on behalf of the Tairāwhiti region and stakeholders, aims to:

- Position Tairāwhiti (Te Hā Trust, Iwi, mana whenua and other local partners) as host of the core Sestercentennial events, including the national launch of the Tuia First Encounters 250 commemoration;
- Deliver a series of events to international standard in Tairāwhiti from late September to late October 2019, as the basis of an ongoing legacy event;
- Strengthen the capability of local people, lwi, mana whenua, communities and organisations to host and to deliver the series of events to the standards required of Tairāwhiti manaakitanga and international events; and
- Develop new tourism experiences to deliver long-term sustainable social, economic, environmental and cultural benefit to Tairāwhiti.

Specific tasks associated with Tairāwhiti hosting and delivering the Sestercentennial events, include:

- Establishment, staffing, operation and closing of the Tairāwhiti office base (Oct 2017 to March 2020);
- Development and production of a Tairāwhiti commemoration programme and resource which summarises key 250th commemoration stories and sites;

- Provision of Tairāwhiti manaakitanga hosting and ambassador training programmes;
- Coordination and management of volunteers, casual staff/contractors;
- Establishment of MOU/Collaboration and service agreements with key partners;
- Provision of adequate catering, accommodation and transport services;
- Marketing and promotion, including communications with stakeholders and the community; and
- Together with Activate Tairāwhiti, commissioning an evaluation and economic impact analysis report, for completion post-2019 with recommendations for consideration by relevant Tairāwhiti and central government parties.

1.4 Context

October 2019 commemorates the meeting of two great voyaging traditions. In the days of sail, New Zealand was such a difficult place to reach that this was the last significant land-mass or earth to be found and settled by people. Only bold, skilled sailors, whether Polynesian or European, build make these long, dangerous voyages.

Te Hā celebrates the feats of the star navigators who first explored and settled the Pacific - a third the earth's surface - and of scientific explorers like James Cook who explored and charted this great or an for Europe. This shared legacy is still alive and well in New Zealand, whether in the Navy, the America's Cup, the Olympics or the revival of Polynesian star navigation. It is part of a global story, notices a local or national commemoration. These commemorations talk to out rationhood, telling stores about our forebears who had the courage, curiosity and skill to cross the world's largest acead.

The full cost of this regional programme designed to position Tainavaili, showcasing its tourism assets and attracting visitors, is estimated at 9(2) (2(1))

$1 million is being sought from the negronal Growth Initiatives Multi Year Appropriation programme towards this programme, to be allocated as per the proposed investment framework below.

MCH is separately responsible for deterministrated delivering the 'official launch event' elements. While final scoping and detailing respect to the official national commemoration launch led by MCH are yet to be determined, the Te Ha Trust (Tanawhiti) has recommended investment from the Regional Growth Programme to support these national commemoration events including the national celebration of 1000 years of navigation. MCH will work with the Te Hā Trust, Tairāwhiti Iwi/mana whenua, Gisborne District Council, Tairāwhiti Voyagna, trust and others to collaboratively develop the core concepts and plans for this event.

1.5 Benefits pithis proposal

The Te Ha Trust and stakeholders anticipate the following will be achieved as a direct result of this investment:

- Memorable commemoration events with national and international exposure, contributing to the new brand positioning for Tairâwhiti – translating into ongoing visitor attractions and experiences around First Encounters/First Meetings and core content for tourism promotion;
- The Tairāwhiti community embracing First Encounters stories, and telling them in a balanced way every year;
- Raised standards of authentic dual heritage tourism experiences consistent high quality experiences;
- Tourism experiences / new 'product', product development that can be commercialised and increase regional revenue, including new Māori Tourism offerings, activation of the new 'Navigations Project' infrastructure, and new events (annually) in the shoulder season including Toi Tu Tairāwhiti an annual Festival of Arts and Culture; and
- Increased people capability and capacity.

2. STRATEGIC CASE

2.1 Investment objectives

Project Objective One	Position Tairāwhiti (Te Hā Trust and local partners) as host of the core Sestercentennial events, including the official national launch of the Tuia First Encounters 250 commemoration
Existing arrangement	In anticipation of the upcoming Sestercentennial in 2019, the Te Hā Trust has, with the support of local funders, been producing small events each October to engage community and Iwi/mana whenua in preparation for the official commemorations.
Business need/scope	Tairāwhiti has been determined by Government as the location for the official national launch of the Sestercentennial commemoration events. It is anticipated that Tairāwhiti will be host to a broad range of domestic and international visitors, dignitaries, media and guests of State. This requires extensive hosting and commemorative event development, production and delivery. While the Government, through the Ministry for Arts, Culture and Heritage (MCH) will be responsible for the leadership and delivery of the official national commemoration launch event itself, there is an expectation that Tairāwhiti will provide the core infrastructure and community engagement and support necessary to do so.
How will the project meet this need?	Investment in core hosting capability and infrastructure will ensure that the Government delivers its objectives in hosting a national commemoration launch event that is of international standard. This project will contribute towards the delivery of hosting infrastructure that would otherwise not be available.

Project Objective Two	Deliver a series of events to international standard in Tairāwhiti from late September to late October 2019, as the basis of an ongoing legacy event
Existing arrangement	The Te Hā Trust together with Tairāwhiti community have been developing a programme of events since 2016, for culmination and delivery in 2019.
Business need/scope	While the official national commemoration launch event will be one element of the 2019 Sestercentennial commemoration programme, Tairāwhiti Gisborne will be hosting a series of events in the build up to and following this official event, from the arrival and hosting of waka hourua and the replica Endeavour; through to commemoration of the first trade and exchange, and other commemorative milestones associated with the 'First Encounters'. There is no vote funding available for this broader series of events that are pivotal to achieving the broader economic, social and cultural benefits for Tairāwhiti, and to provide ongoing legacies for the region. Activate Tairāwhiti has also identified the need for the development of additional annual events in the shoulder season, in order to grow tourism offerings available to drive visitation to the region.
How will the project meet this need?	This investment will contribute to the establishment of an annual Festival of Arts and Culture, to be launched in 2019 around the Sestercentennial commemorations and retained annually as a national Festival of Arts and Culture in October thereafter.

(2 F)

Project Objective Three	Strengthen the capability of local people, communities and organisations to host and to deliver the series of events to the standards required of Tairāwhiti manaakitanga and international events
Existing arrangement	Tairāwhiti has its own authentic and unique manaakitanga, however this is reflected in a limited number of tourism experiences and event offerings.
Business need/scope	The Tairāwhiti tourism sector is considered underdeveloped and has been identified as having immense scope for growth. This is limited by the experience, capacity and capability of local people, communities and organisations to host events of and to an international standard.
How will the project meet this need?	Investment in strengthening the capability and capacity of local people and organisations, in particular lwi/mana whenua and community organisations, and their preparedness for the Sestercentennial commemoration events, will contribute to the successful delivery of the national commemorations programme, and will enhance the Tairāwhiti region's growing tourism industry. The project will be led and delivered from within Tairāwhiti and will contribute to the new brand positioning for Tairāwhiti around First Encounters/First Meetings. Investment in capability will include specific training and other fora for those involved in the Sestercentennial programme.

Project Objective Four	Develop new tourism experiences, to deliver long-term sustainable social, economic, environmental and cultural benefit to Tairāwhiti.
Existing arrangement	Tairāwhiti has a limited number of tourism experiences that promote the unique dual heritage, culture and value proposition of the region.
Business need/scope	TEAP Action 5.2 (Tairāwhiti Navigations Project), Business Case 5.3 (Cook Landing Site and iwi encounters project), the Tairāwhiti Voyaging Trust's waka hourua project, and the Sestercentennial event commemorations deliver infrastructure and event offerings that need to be leveraged and developed into viable and sustainable tourism experiences and product offerings, to deliver long-term economic growth for the region.
How will the project meet this need?	This project will invest in the scoping and development of new tourism experiences that will activate 5.2 and 5.3 infrastructure investment, and ensure the ongoing sustainability of the ' Tairāwhiti ' waka hourua, lwi/mana whenua based and other commemoration events and tourism product offerings. Specifically, this project will see a number of feasibilities undertaken for proposed tourism experiences, to leverage investment in the new infrastructure being built, and the Sestercentennial programme development.

2.2 Key strategic risks

These projects are relatively low risk in that they have been developed collaboratively with Activate Tairāwhiti, Gisborne District Council, Te Puni Kokiri, Iwi/mana whenua and the Tairāwhiti Voyaging Trust, and have regard for the broader national programme being developed and led by MCH.

The Trust has put in place strong governance and management oversight, has established an MOU with key partner GDC, and is in the process of establishing a MOU with MCH.

The Trust will also enter into MOU or letters of understanding with Iwi/mana whenua (the nature and scope of each agreement to be agreed with each party).

That said there are some potential risks that the Trust has identified which are outlined below.

The Trust will actively engage with Iwi/mana whenua and key stakeholders including the Tairāwhiti Economic Action Plan Steering Group, MBIE and MCH, throughout the delivery of these projects.

2.3 High level objectives alignment

The projects proposed are focused on ensuring that the national commemorations programme is effectively launched and situated, and that the region maximises the leverage potential around this event in the building of capability, development of new events and tourism experiences which will deliver long-term sustainable tourism growth and employment for the region.

3. ECONOMIC EVALUATION

The case for investment is outlined in the above section titled Strategic Case – Investment Objectives.

Investment in the hosting and activation of the national Sestercentennial commemorations, will be measured via a post event economic evaluation. This will be undertaken in association with Activate Tairāwhiti and will follow the protocol outlined in the Major Events Development Fund Post-Event Economic Evaluation Guidelines.

The Tairāwhiti region has unique and valuable stories critical for New Zealanders to understand their heritage and national identity. Many of these stories will come from assets of the area: 46% of the regional population is Māori and there are 70 operational marae in the region. This asset base will create a rich range of stories and Māori tourism products and services which will in turn create an ongoing sustainable Māori tourism sector in the region, that will create and continue to create fulfitime tobs and reasonable income in the region.

The majority of events funded will be of legacy value in that the will continue on an annual basis as part of the new Toi  $T\bar{u}$  Tairāwhiti (Festival of Arts and Culture) that will take place every October, following the official Sestercentennial in 2019.

3.1 Economic Outcomes

Development of new tourism experiences and products leveraging the Sestercentennial infrastructure builds and story-telling/content capture, will contribute to sustained tourism growth and development within the region. Specific economic outcomes include:

The Te Hā story is a key reason for people coming here. Te Hā is an anchor contributor to the regional point of difference within the regional tourism market. This is a key driver of the regional tourism brand and regional point of difference (an authentic Tairāwhiti brand).

This business case will directly contribute to 4.1 and 4.2 of the Tairāwhiti Economic Action Plan as it contributes to the development of an authentic Tairāwhiti brand, as well as capturing content that will be available for regional marketing, business attraction, visitor services and heritage promotion.

This business case will also support and amplify the work being undertaken by national tourism organisations such as Air New Zealand, who are working with Activate Tairāwhiti to develop a sustainable tourism programme, and grow the Gisborne Tairāwhiti region as a destination, while adding to the diversity of tourism offerings available in New Zealand.

The cumulative effect of the events and investment within this proposal will contribute to a lift in future visitor numbers and spend in the Tairāwhiti region, arising out of the national and international profile of the events via mainstream media, social and digital channels. This will be in addition to the anticipated 10,000 visitors to the region for the actual Sestercentennial commemorations in 2019.

3.2 Building the economic case

There are very limited options to achieve the outcomes above. These can only be achieved with the development of a large scale programme of events, and the development of ongoing annual events and tourism ventures.

If the $1 million sought from the Regional Growth Initiative Multi Year Appropriation was not available then the events programme and new tourism product development would not be able to be fully delivered, and the resulting outcomes will be substantially less. Only minimal hosting infrastructure would be available to the Government for its national official opening ceremony and voyaging events, and there would be no catalyst for further local investment, or Iwi/mana whenua and community economic development. While less relevant to the economic case, it would also result in a dis-engaged community.

This investment delivers both national and local benefits. Nationally, the Government will be assured of the right infrastructure hosting capability in which to develop and deliver its national official commemorations event, including the hosting of international and national VIPs and guests of Government. Locally, the region will have built capability and capacity for tourism and the staging and hosting of events of this significance.

3.3 Why Regional Growth Initiative funding is required

The Government has determined that Tairāwhiti will host the national official launch event for the Sestercentennial commemorations. This will require regional event and tourism infrastructure that is not currently in place, nor provided for within MCH Vote allocations for the Sestercentennial. Specifically, this includes provision of a tent city, accommodation, meals, and hosting of waka hourua visitors; powhiri and hosting of visitors for voyaging, oceans symposium and the national official opening ceremony; and supporting community events and activation around the national official opening ceremony.

Māori tourism is a key area of development identified by Tourism New Zealand – towards creation of a modern New Zealand. This business case will directly contribute to the development of new Māori tourism ventures and visitor experiences, within the region. This fund will contribute to development of regional capability, new event offerings, and annualised events – that together with the development of new tourism products arising out of the Sestercentennial infrastructure and other projects – will deliver ongoing and sustained tourism value to the region and contribute to the achievement of actions 4.1 and 4.2 of the Tairāwhiti Economic Action Plan.

4. PROJECT PLAN

4.1 Procurement process

Outline the procurement process used/to be followed

The Trust will enter into service level agreements with organisations (lwi/mana whenua and community organisations) for the delivery of their respective projects. These agreements will have clearly articulated outcomes, with milestones for delivery linked with payment.

The Trust will directly lead Toi Tu Tairāwhiti (development and management of the annual Festival of Arts and Culture), and the convening of the overarching month long programme of events in the Tairāwhiti region. The Trust will also be a foundation member on the national steering group hosting the Sustainable Oceans Symposium.

For activities delivered directly by the Trust, all projects will be subject to an RNA tender process. Name procurement of services shall be subject to the securing of a minimum of two quotes, as per the Trust's Procurement Policy (appended).

5. MANAGEMENT PLAN

5.1 Project Governance Structure

The project will be overseen by the Te Hā 1769 Sestercentennial Trust, an independent, community driven, charitable trust governed by a Trust Deed and Board of Trustees.

The principal objectives of the Te Hā Trust are to:

- Commemorate the first meetings at Tūranganui-a-Kiwa/Poverty Bay, Anaura Bay, Uawa/Tolaga Bay and on and off the coast of the Tairāwhiti region in October 1769 of the Māori and European people who went on to have a dual heritage and a shared future.
- Commemorate the discovery, exploration and settlement of Aotearoa by peoples from East Polynesia prior to 1769, including the recognition and commemoration of the Polynesian tradition of voyaging and exploration.
- Commemorate the 250th Anniversary of the voyage of Lieutenant Cook, Edpair and others on HM Bark Endeavour, and the British tradition of maritime exploration.
- Promote locally, nationally and internationally through education and other means the national and international significance of these events.
- Establish legacies from the commemoration of these events, moving forward for the next 250 years celebrating our shared culture with a sense of pride and ownership of New Zealand's dual heritage and shared future.

The Te Hā Trust Board meets monthly on the second Monday of each month except January and has appointed a Trustee to oversee/sponsor each of its business plan work streams and each projects.

An Executive Committee has been appointed, comprising the following trustees:

- Richard Brooking (Chairman):
- James Blackburne (Deputy Chairman);
- Te Aturangi Nepia Chang;
- Dr Jennie Harré Hindmarsh; and
- Dame Brownen Høldsworth

The Executive Committee meets monthly, between Board meetings, and has specific delegated authorities, which are described in the Te Ifa Trust Policies Manual. The Chairman and Deputy Chairman are responsible for maintaining oversight of financial matters. The Chairman and Dame Bronwen Holdsworth have responsibility for Communications.

Accountability for the projects outlined in this business case will be the responsibility of the Te Hā Trust.

The Ministry for Culture and Heritage (MCH) convenes the National Coordinating Committee, which comprises two representatives from each of the four landing-site trusts, plus representatives of various government agencies. Dame Anne Salmond and Richard Brooking represent the Te Hā Trust at these meetings.

The National Coordinating Committee currently has two sub-committees:

- Voyaging and Navigation; the Te Hā Trust representatives are Te Aturangi Nepia-Clamp and Joe Martin; and
- Communications, Branding and Naming; the Te Hā Trust representative is Dr Jennie Harré Hindmarsh.

The Te Hā Trust coordinates two national fora by telephone with the other landing-site trusts:

- Skype hui (monthly or as needed), usually attended by the Te Hā Trust Executive Committee members, plus Dame Anne Salmond, depending on availability; and
- A less regular National Education Working Group Skype hui, which is convened by Jennie Harré Hindmarsh on behalf of the Te Hā Trust.

Trustees are responsible for building and maintaining relationships within and outside the Tairāwhiti, including influencing politicians and other key stakeholders and decision-makers. A Kaumātua/Pakeke (Māori/Iwi Elders) Advisory Group has been formed to sit alongside trustees and provide cultural advice, guidance and support. Dame Patsy Reddy, Governor-General, is Patron of the Trust and Sir Neil Cossons is Advisory Trustee.

The Trust has paid management to oversee the day to day operations of the Trust, to manage key projects to ensure that the benefits are delivered, on time and within budget (on behalf of the Trustee Sponsor).

The General Manager's responsibilities include:

- Establishing and managing working groups or contractors to deliver projects;
- Ensuring the Te Hā mission and values are understood and accurately reflected.
- Communicating between Te Hā Trust and external stakeholders, including funders and potential funders;
- Managing operations to ensure the expectations and responsibilities set out in the Twee's Policy Manual, MoUs/letters of agreement/partnership projects are met;
- Ensuring that projects deliver the stated benefits and meet trustees expectations, satisfy stakeholder needs;
- Ensuring projects and proposals are feasible, realistic and contribute towards realising strategic goals;
- Managing projects and other activities to deliver on time and to budget;
- Maintaining a risk register and jssues log;
- Ensuring that the Trust operates within egislative requirements, including compliance with its Trust Deed and with the requirements of the Charities Commission; and
- Reporting on progress to sponsors, the Te Ha Trust Board and other stakeholders.

The Trust has developed an enhanced management structure to deliver the extended programme of activity in the build-up to 2019. An overview of this management structure is below. This structure will funded by Jocal funders and partners.

Recruitment of personnel has commenced, with full staff anticipated to be in place by February 2018.

In the interim the Trust has retained the services of a project consultant, Sharon van Gulik, who has significant experience in the development and management of Government funded events of national and international significance in her prior role as CEO of the then NZ Millennium Office, responsible for developing and delivering a yearlong programme of events and legacy projects to celebrate the new millennium and leverage tourism and trade outcomes for New Zealand.

Significant experience in events and projects of this scale and significance also resides within members of the Trust. These are summarised in the appended bios of Trust members.

5.2 Ownership

The ownership and management of the various elements of the project, are outlined below:

Project	Ownership and ongoing management
2019 Sestercentennial programme of events	Each contributing organisation is responsible for the ownership of their event or activity, and any ongoing management.
RELEA	In the case of a new Festival of Arts and Culture, this is the responsibility of the Te Hā Trust. Rost 2019, it is anticipated that a new Trust will be established to take over ownership and management of this event on an ongoing basis, and that this annual event will continue to incorporate elements of commemoration and story-telling of the 1769 first ancounters and meetings and associated Pacific and European voyaging traditions. The Sustainable Oceans Symposium is a joint initiative to be led by a national steering group including the Royal Society of New Zealand, Waka Hourua collective and Te Hā Trust.
Development of new tourism experiences	Each lwi/mana whenua or organisation will own their tourism experience, and will be responsible for its ongoing management and operation. Activate Tairāwhiti and TPK will also provide support and oversight for this new tourism product development, via an MOU with the Trust.
Content development	Individual organisations will own their own 'content' or IP / story-telling, and will enter into agreements with Activate Tairāwhiti, the Museum or other organisations that wish to use this content for promotion of the region, on an ongoing basis.
Research	The research and its associated methodology will remain in the ownership of contributing organisations, and will revert to Activate Tairāwhiti in the event of any organisation ceasing operation post the Sestercentennial.

5.3 Post-project evaluation

The success of the project will be assessed through a combination of quantitative and qualitative performance measures, to be agreed. These measures and their measurement approach are outlined in the table below. SMART measures will be agreed once all project plans and contract for service are completed.

The Trust will undertake this evaluation in partnership with Activate Tairāwhiti.

Performance Measure	Measurement tool/s
of people involved with and attending the Sestercentennial events (both domestic and international) in 2019	Information provided by participating organisations Visitor numbers as determined by Activate Tairāwhiti
Levels of Tairāwhiti community engagement and an increase in 'first encounters' understanding	The Te Hā Trust together with partners Activate Tairāwhiti and MCH (TBC) will undertake baseline and pulse research to determine levels of awareness and engagement in the Sestercentennial commemorations, and the degree to which this has been enhanced through this project and investment. Baseline research will take place in late 2017/early 2018, November 2018, with final research in November 2019.
of events delivered # of events continuing in 2020	Number of events published in 2019 Sestercentennial programme Number of events continuing in 2020
wānanga about Te Hā stories and hosting	As advised by iwi and community groups
of new tourism experiences developed	Mumber of new tourism experiences brochure/promoted by Activate Tairāwhiti
% increase in New Zealand and international visitation to Taitawhiti	As managed by Activate Tairāwhiti
6. NEXT STEPS

On confirmation of the business case, the Trust will confirm and secure the balance of community / regional funding and appoint staff and contractors to implement the programme.

1 Introduction

The Te Hā 1769 Sestercentennial Trust (the Trust) is an independent, community driven, charitable Trust governed by a Trust Deed and Board of Trustees.

The Te Hā 1769 Sestercentennial Trust was set up in October 2013 to co-ordinate programmes to commemorate the 250th anniversary of the first meetings between Māori and Europeans on and off the shores of Gisborne/Tairāwhiti, and to celebrate the feats of our ancestors in exploring the world's largest ocean. In remembering the past, we aim to create legacies for future generations, and pathways to a new, exciting future for all New Zealanders.

The Trust is working with the community to prepare for the 2019 commemorations, which will be launched in Gisborne/Turanganui-a-Kiwa, being the first landfall of the Endeavour, commemorations will also be held other areas in our region: specifically, Anaura Bay (the second landfall) and Uawa/Tolaga Bay (the third landfall). These landfall events all occurred during October 1769.

The Trust will facilitate a programme of local, national and international events and initiatives leading up to and including the commemorations and celebrations in 2019, and generate legacies for the benefit of the region, and the nation.

This document should be read in conjunction with To Hā Strategic Plan Communications Plan, Trust Deed, Policy Manual and the Commemorations Work Plan (Four Rillar Plan).

2 Scope

This document is an updated version of the Te Hā Trust's original business plan, which described the sixyear period December 2014 to December 2020, and focused on the Trust's objectives for the 12-month period beginning February 2015.

The business plan should be reviewed and updated in July each year, along with the production and audit of the Trust's annual accounts and report to the Charities Commission.

The purposes of this business plan are to:

- Define key outputs and outcomes to be achieved during 2017/2018
- Define and communicate the Trust's priorities for the utilisation of its resources for the financial year (2017/2018)
- Signal priorities and resourcing requirements for the 2018/2019 and 2019/2020 financial years.

It is assumed that central government will fund the official commemorative programme for 2019 (financial year 2019/2020). The Trust's operational funding from the Gisborne District Council ends 30th June 2019. In March 2017, the Eastland Community Trust granted $100,000 towards funding some of the Trust's key objectives for the 2017/2018 financial year.

3 Business Plan Delivery

The tables below divide the Trust's activities into three key areas:

- 1. Trust Governance and Operations (sponsor Richard Brooking)
- 2. Legacy Generation; the legacies being<sup>1</sup>:
  - a) Educating the Nation (sponsor Jenne Harré Hindmarsh)
  - b) Prosperous Tairāwhiti, underpinned by:
    - Voyaging and Navigation (sponsor Te Aturangi Nepia-Clamp)
    - Toitu Tairāwhiti / Sustainable Tairawhiti (sponsor Dame Anne Salmond)
    - Arts and Culture (sponsor Jennie Harré Hindmarsh)
    - World Heritage Status (sponsor James Blackburne)
    - Tourism initiatives (sponsor Dame Bronwen Holdsworth)
- 3. Commemorative Events and Programmes (sponsor Richard Brooking)

3.3 Commemorative Events and Programmes

3.3.1 Te Hā Four Pillars Commemorative Events Programme

With support from Activate Tairāwhiti, in 2016 the Trust engaged Anthem to assist in the development of a strategic framework for the programme of commemorative events of 2019. The Te Hā Trust Board has adopted an approach proposed by Anthem after community workshops held in April 2016 and presented as a draft project plan in September 2016. This approach centres on four key pillars of the commemoration programme, these being:

- The Official Commemoration Launch
- Voyaging and Navigation
- Arts Infrastructure and Festival
- Wananga Meetings of the Minds

The plan (referred to here as the Te Hā Four Pillars Commemorations Work Plan) proposes that working groups be established to progress planning for 2019 under each of these pillars, and that these working groups present project plans and budgets to allow presentation of a full proposal to Government to inform baseline updates for Vote 2018/2019 and 2019/2020.

Details, including terms of reference for the working groups, are contained in the Te Hā Four Pillars Commemorations Work Plan.

The MCH-convened National Coordinating Committee is now actively leading planning for the official commemorations programme, and is planning to convene a subsommittee early in 2017 to focus on this.

The MCH also convertes a subcommittee focused on Voyaging and Navigation.

A Te Hā Trusteled working group has been formed around the arts. The current focus is on planning the annual Te Hā Art Award and to support the Trust's Events Facilitator to gather information to inform a discussion around an ongoing annual arts festival and other art initiatives.

A working group focused on wananga and learning – meeting of minds - is likely to naturally develop from the Turanga me Tairawhiti education hui as part of the establishment of the education legacy, and Kanohi Ora and Hawiti have maatauranga central to their work.

The table below describes the objectives that have been defined to support the Te Hā Commemorative Programmes and Events.

A preliminary draft events programme for 2019 has been developed (31/03/17) and circulated to the MCH as the basis for budgeting and planning – this is contained in Appendix 2.

APPENDIX 1 TRUST STRUCTURE – GOVERNANCE AND OPERATIONS & FUNDING

Governance and Operations

The Te Hā Trust Board meets monthly on the second Monday of each month, except January.

An Executive Committee has been appointed, comprising the following trustees:

- Richard Brooking (Chairman)
- James Blackburne (Deputy Chairman)
- Te Aturangi Nepia-Clamp
- Jennie Harré Hindmarsh
- Bronwen Holdsworth

The Executive Committee meets monthly, between Board meetings, and has specific delegated authorities, which are described in the Te Hā Trust Policies Manual. The Executive Committee structure is currently being reviewed and updated.

The Chairman and Deputy Chairman are responsible for maintaining oversight of financial matters.

The Chairman and Bronwen Holdsworth have responsibility for Communications.

The Ministry for Culture and Heritage (MCH) convenes the Wational Coordinating Committee, which comprises two representatives from each of the four landing site trusts, plus representatives of various government agencies. Dame Anne Salmond and Richard Brooking represent the Te Hā Trust at these meetings

The National Coordinating Committee currently has two sub-committees:

• Voyaging and Navigation; the Te Hā Trust representatives are Te Aturangi Nepia-Clamp and Joe Martin

Communications, Branding and Naming; the Te Hā Trust representative is Jennie Harré Hindmarsh

The MCH has proposed the establishment of a National Opening Ceremony Subcommittee.

The Te Ha Thust coordinates two national fora by telephone with the other landing-site trusts:

- A monthly Skype hui, usually attended by the Te Hā Trust Executive Committee members, plus Dame Anne Salmond, depending on availability
- A less regular Education-focused Skype hui, which is convened by Jennie Harré Hindmarsh on behalf of the Te Hā Trust

Trustees are responsible for building and maintaining relationships within and outside the Tairāwhiti, including influencing politicians and other key stakeholders and decision-makers.

A Kaumātua/Pakeke (Maori/Iwi Elders) Advisory Group has been formed to sit alongside trustees and provide cultural advice, guidance and support.

Dame Patsy Reddy, Governor-General, is Patron of the Trust.

Sir Neil Cossons is Advisory Trustee.

The General Manager is responsible for the day-to-day operations of the Trust and managing key projects to ensure that the benefits are delivered, on time and within budget (on behalf of the Trustee Sponsor).

The General Manager's responsibilities include:

- establishing and managing working groups or contractors to deliver projects
- ensuring the Te Hā mission and values are understood and accurately reflected
- communicating between Te Hā and external stakeholders, including funders and potential funders
- managing operations to ensure the expectations and responsibilities set open in the Trust's Policy Manual, MoUs/letters of agreement/partnership projects are met
- ensuring that projects deliver the stated benefits and meet Te Ha expectations, satisfy stakeholder needs
- ensuring projects and proposals are feasible, realistic and contribute towards realising strategic goals
- managing projects and other activities to deliver on time and to budget
- maintaining a risk register and issues log
- ensuring that the Trust operates within legislative requirements, including compliance with its Trust Deed and with the requirements of the Charities Commission
- reporting on progress to Sponsors, the Te Hā Trust Board and other stakeholders.

Funding

The Trust has secured skeleton operational funding from the Gisborne District Council for the four years leading up to 2029. This funding will cease at the end of June 2019. The GDC funding has enabled the Trust to secure a part time General Manager, who is supported by casual administration staff on an as-required basis.

where functing is secured, specific projects have been, and will continue to be, delivered by contracted resource.

Trustees continue to build relationships with stakeholders, including within central government, in anticipation on sufficient buy-in at a senior government level to secure a funding commitment from central government. The Ministry for Culture and Heritage (MCH) has secured $3.5 million from the New Zealand Major Events Fund to support "a commemorative voyage around New Zealand by a flotilla including a replica of the Endeavour<sup>2</sup>" as part of the 2019 commemorations. MCH anticipates that this funding will enable further government and corporate sponsorship to be secured.

An urgent priority for the General Manager for the current financial year is the completion of a fundraising strategy, plan and calendar - summarising potential sources of funding, closing dates and criteria.

APPENDIX 2 PRELIMINARY DRAFT PROGRAMME – LEGACY CREATION AND EVENTS 2019

The Ministry for Culture and Heritage has requested information about:

- 1. The key events and legacy projects that each of the four trusts involved in the commemorations has planned
- 2. The projected budgets for these projects
- 3. Funding secured for them and potential funding sources for each
- Which projects would be prioritised if funding cannot be found to develop and deliver all of them

The tables below are indicative of a 'work-in-progress' which includes collaboration and consultation with many groups throughout our communities. Details, budgets and priorities will continue to develop.

The programme in Tairāwhiti, which will launch the national commemorations, will present a series of interwoven, meaningful and media-friendly events, which will involve local communities and actively engage international audiences. We are planning an artistic and cultural extravaganza including a Sound and Light show exploring voyaging and navigation stories, and other spectacular events including, the New Zealand Symphony Orchestra.

We anticipate the Endeavour replica being met by the waka flotilla in the bay with the back drop of sea, land and sky, with powhin and various land-and sea-based activities around the region to follow.

The tables below capture our work-to-date (20/6/2017), and will be updated over coming months as details develop.

NOTE: Tables cyrently being reviewed.

ONE PAGE ASSESSMENT OF PROJECTS

Project

Project Name: Te Hā Trust - Gisborne/Tairāwhiti regional commemorative programme.

Lead Agency: MBIE

Key Person: Jennie Harré Hindmarsh, Te Ha Trustee, 9(2)(a)

Project description – Funding to support the regional Māori /European first encounters commemorative programme in Gisborne/Tairāwhiti (Action 5.4 in the Tairāwhiti Economic Action Plan). Details of the programme are outlined in Appendix 1.

Project Objectives -

- To position Tairāwhiti (Te Hā Trust and local partners) as host of the core Sestercentennial events, including the official national launch of the Ryin First Encounters 250 commemoration.
- To deliver a series of events to international standard in Tairāwhiti from late September to late October 2019, as the basis of an ongoing legacy event.
- To strengthen the capability of local people, communities and organisations to host and to deliver the series of events to the standards required of Parawhiti manaakitanga and international events.

The project is linked to Tuia. Tuia is the national commemoration for 2019 that acknowledges the first meetings of Maor and Europeans in 1269. The national commemoration focuses on New Zealand's due heritage and complex history of migration and settlement, and the dual culture that forms the basis of New Zealand's identity. The Ministry for Culture and Heritage - Manatū Taonga (Mchr) the lead government agency responsible for Tuia.

Longe term outcome

Develop new tourism experiences, to deliver long-term sustainable social, economic, environmental and categoria penetit to Tairāwhiti

Assessment

On 20 December 2017, the Minister for Regional Economic Development approved $1,000,000 from the Regional Growth Initiative Multi-Year Appropriation for the Te Hā 1769 Sestercentennial Commemorations.

The Te Hā Trust and stakeholders anticipate the following will be achieved as a direct result of this investment:

- Memorable commemoration events with national and international exposure, contributing to the new brand positioning for Tairāwhiti;
- The Tairāwhiti community embracing First Encounters stories, and telling them is a balanced way every year;
- Raised standards of authentic dual heritage tourism experiences consistent new pullity experiences;
- Tourism experiences / new 'product', product development that can be commercialised and increase regional revenue, including new Māori Tourism offering), activation of the new 'Navigations Project' infrastructure, and new events (an usual in the shoulder reason including Toi Tū Tairāwhiti – an annual Festival of Arts and Culture, and new events (an usual propie capability and capacity.

The business case expects that the following pirod economic patcomes will be achieved as a result of MBIE's investments:

- 6 new roles directly created as a result of the proposal, as well as increased employment opportunities in the creater.
- An additional 10,000 visitors to the region for the actual week of commemorations in 2019.
- Investment in the proposal also contributes to the Action Plan's goal of growing annual tourism revenues by $6,500,000 year on year.

Risks

A risk mitigation table is included as Appendix 2.
