Hi s 9(2)(a)

Your programme looks good. Let me (and my team) draft a time table etc tomorrow with a view to emailing you a draft by close of business tomorrow and at the same time check with folk (externals) that are available as we discussed today.

Your stakeholder list is very comprehensive. I will make some amendments and email you these tomorrow as we'll. I don't think this warrants a discussion tomorrow, perhaps Thursday maybe more suitable when you have a sense of the actual time table.

Hi s 9(2)(a)

As discussed it would be good if we could accommodate the following next week:

- Session with Department of Petroleum and Minerals key staff for general introductions and then time to consider iwi engagement (morning of the 10th through to after lunch – you let me know what time works for you)

- o Director General James Stevenson-Wallace
- o Your key Titles and Regulator contacts
- o Yourself and your team

- If possible (and if you think it is useful at this early stage) we could perhaps also meet to provide an early introduction to the Office of EPA and Maritime NZ (and anyone else you suggest). We could walk to them as per your advice after we finish with you or visit late morning on the 11th.

- It has also been suggested that we include s 9(2)(a) in our early introductions. Is this something we could do with our meeting with P&M?

We plan to meet with PEPANZ (Cameron Madwich and s 9(2)(a)) on the morning of the 11th. Depending on the time we start with you on the 10th we may see s 9(2)(a) on that day as well.

Please also note our Caltex colleagues have put us in contact with BusinessNZ who we would like to meet after PEPANZ on 11th.

Attached is a list of stakeholders which we have worked on some more since the last one sent to you. Formatting has gone a bit off but you can see the names.

If you have any suggestions or insights please let me know and of course how we structure the iwi engagement will be our focus next week.

Cheers

Subject: Statoil Visit to Northland Regional Council

Kai ora s 9(2)(a) and s 9(2)(a)

It was great to catch up with s 9(2)(a) and s 9(2)(a) last week and I thank you for your continued engagement with NRC and ongoing commitment to improve our understanding of your activities.

The purpose of this email is to provide a brief summary of our discussions/agreements, to make sure we all have the same understanding and to bring Mahanga up to speed with where we got to.

My brief summary:

- s 9(2)(a) confirmed that Statoil is still very keen to meet with NRC councillors and our Maori Advisory Committee.
- Statoil would like to ensure it is able to respond appropriately to all questions raised and therefore wish to bring a small team to support this meeting.
- Statoil is supportive of a day workshop where NZ regulatory agencies (e.g. NZP&M, EPA, MNZ, DoC) provide an overview of the regulatory environment during a morning session and Statoil to provide an overview of their activities and respond to questions in the afternoon.
- Statoil confirmed that this workshop could be scheduled for mid to late August (subject to confirmation from s 9(2)(a) that those attending from overseas are available).

Actions:

- s 9(2)(a) to confirm as soon as possible dates when his team would be available to attend a workshop at NRC offices.
- s 9(2)(a) to liaise with s 9(2)(a) to see if this will work for NZP&M and if s 9(2)(a) is happy to coordinate attendance from other agencies.

The sooner we can confirm details the better as I need to get dates pencilled into councillors and committee members diaries and this can often provide difficult – I'm sure it's the same for you all.

s 9(2)(a) – I can give you a call later this week to discuss further/answer any questions etc. Also - FYI – my council has requested that I provide an invitation to Greenpeace, Green Party and the Parliamentary Commissioner for the Environment to present their views on deep sea oil exploration. Due to the number of presenters and needing to keep the workshop to a manageable number of presenters I'm proposing to invite these 3 to a second workshop.

Thanks everyone, I appreciate this has got a little bigger than was originally anticipated however I do believe it will prove to be a great opportunity for a productive engagement.

Hi s 9(2)(a)

Yes, the FTP site can but it can be frustratingly slow to upload for an order that size. I guessed the total size was around 5 Gb, which would have taken a few hours and been OK.

As an alternative, why don't I drop a portable hard drive at the front desk and you can just copy it onto that?

All -

Heads up -

GP have mobilized 2 RHIBs and information suggests they will attempt to get out to the Amazon Warrior.

Will keep all posted. This is a expected action. We have potential protest and media plans in place.

Thks s 9(2)(a) well written

I few quick reflections;

1) Paragraph no 2

- think of replacing large with long

- replace The size of the Amazon Warrior .. The operation nature by the Amazon Warrior

2) could we include some wording of following DoC regulations (DoC is highly regarded by the public)

3) sorry working off my phone but this paragraph

... "While that is their right, the reality is the world's energy demand is growing and we simply cannot switch off our use of fossil fuels overnight." ...

Add ... as we work and transition together towards a low carbon future" ... (after overnight)

4) 2nd last paragraph replace reserves with resources

Hi all

Apologies all for not coming back to you yesterday following the conference call.

Given the actions of Greenpeace this afternoon, I have drafted the below PR to put out.

We have tried to downplay the impact of the activities of Greenpeace's actions.

At this stage, I am not picking up a lot of mainstream media coverage, but I do want to try and get our voice in there.

Let me know if anyone has any concerns

PEPANZ Disappointed by Greenpeace Media Stunt

The Petroleum Exploration and Production Association of New Zealand (PEPANZ) says it is disappointed by the latest media stunt from Greenpeace protestors, who today jumped into the water in front of the seismic survey vessel Amazon Warrior.

PEPANZ Chief Executive Cameron Madgwick says the Amazon Warrior is operating about 50-kilometres off the coast of the North Island and is towing several large streamers, which stretch many kilometres behind it.

"The size of the Amazon Warrior makes it difficult for it to stop or turn quickly. That is why the vessel is operating with a 500-metre non-interference zone," says Mr Madgwick.

"While the actions of the protestors were not a surprise and had been planned for, the protestors put themselves into a potentially dangerous situation by placing themselves in the vessels path.

"While we absolutely respect the right of Greenpeace to protest, this sort of action is just stupid.

"Climate change is a serious issue and it requires governments, energy companies, NGOs and environmental groups to work together to find answers.

"We have attempted to engage Greenpeace in this discussion, including inviting them to the New Zealand Petroleum Conference. They have, however, declined these invitations and instead focussed their attention on protests and raising their profile through stunts such as those witnessed today.

"While that is their right, the reality is the world's energy demand is growing and we simply cannot switch off our use of fossil fuels overnight.

"Oil and gas are not only used in transport, but also to heat our homes, cook our food and create a huge range of essential goods.

"For example, Greenpeace themselves are using diesel to fuel their vessels and the life jackets the protestors are wearing will be made from petroleum by-products. The radios and cellphones they are using, the binoculars aboard their vessel will all contain products made from oil."

Mr Madgwick says New Zealand is underexplored by international standards and the work that the Amazon Warrior is undertaking will help us understand better what petroleum reserves we might have.

"Oil and gas could deliver enormous economic benefit to New Zealanders. A significant find could result in billions of dollars in new investment, more highly skilled jobs for our young people and provide increased taxes and royalties to fund government services."

Ends

Notes to reporter

- More information about seismic surveys can be found at <http://www.energy.govt.nz/our-process/seismic-surveys/>
- The Petroleum Exploration and Production Association of New Zealand (PEPANZ) is the upstream oil and gas industry association. PEPANZ members currently account for an estimated 95 percent of New Zealand's petroleum production. PEPANZ also represents more than 30 associate member companies that provide a wide range of goods and services to the industry.

Gents

Just wanted to thank you for your efforts in countering some of Greenpeace's rhetoric through your media releases. I think it shifted the balance of reporting (particularly through the more mainstream press) and was timely in offering a new perspective. Good to see Judith remains forthright in her opinion.

Judging by some of the public comments under these articles, GP have far from the full support of the entirety of New Zealand as they claim. It will be interesting to see how they play out the summons and court appearances moving forward.

Cheers
