Submissions process

The Code Working Group (CWG) seeks written submissions on the issues raised in this document by 5pm on Monday 30 April 2018

We welcome submissions on any or all consultation questions. You are welcome to comment only on the issues most relevant to you.

Where possible, please include evidence to support your views, for example references to independent research, facts and figures, or relevant examples.

Please direct any questions that you have in relation to the submissions process to code.secretariat@mbie.govt.nz.

Use of information

The information provided in submissions will be used to inform the CWG's development of the draft Code. We may contact submitters directly if we require clarification of any matters in submissions.

Release of information

The CWG intends to upload PDF copies of submissions received to MBIE's website at www.mbie.govt.nz. The CWG will consider you to have consented to publication of your submission, unless you clearly specify otherwise in your submission.

If your submission contains any information that is confidential or you otherwise wish us not to publish, please:

- indicate this on the front of the submission, with any confidential information clearly marked within the text
- provide a separate version excluding the relevant information for publication on our website.

Submissions remain subject to request under the Official Information Act 1982. Please set out clearly in the cover letter or e-mail accompanying your submission if you have any objection to the release of any information in the submission, and in particular, which parts you consider should be withheld, together with the reasons for withholding the information. The CWG will take such objections into account and will consult with submitters when responding to requests under the Official Information Act 1982.

Private information

The Privacy Act 1993 establishes certain principles with respect to the collection, use and disclosure of information about individuals. Any personal information you supply to the CWG in the course of making a submission will only be used for the purpose of assisting in the development of the draft code. Please clearly indicate in the cover letter or e-mail accompanying your submission if you do not wish your name, or any other personal information, to be included in any summary of submissions that the CWG may publish.

Information about you

Share your details
i.	Please provide your name and (if relevant) the organisation you represent Peter Barrell BBC Brokers
ii.	Please provide your contact details S 9 (2) (a)
iii.	Please provide any other information about you or your organisation that will help us understand your perspective (e.g. the financial advice situations you have experience with) I work in mortgage, personal insurance, and Kiwi Saver
iv.	Please indicate whether your submission contains any information that is confidential or whether you do not wish your name or any other personal information to be included in a summary of submissions. (See page 2 of this document) na

Principles for drafting the Code

Share your views
A.	What comments do you have regarding the overarching theme of “good advice outcomes” and the underlying principles?
B.	Are there any further principles that should be included, or existing principles that should be removed? Disclosure of income in dollar terms to clients could be confrontational for some clients and when I get professional advice from any trades person or professional, they do not disclose to me their income and I do not expect this. What is the advantage to a client knowing my personal income when they don't understand my overheads or expenses which offsets net gross income, plus the clawback period we are exposed to. Surely the client is interested in the cost to them for the product or service? I was brought up to believe income is personal and confidential for everyone. Would you feel comfortable disclosing your income to every person you deal with?

Ethical behaviour

Act with honesty, fairness and integrity

Share your views
C.	Do you agree with a requirement to act with honesty, fairness and integrity? If not, please set out your reasoning. Yes, this is obvious to most people. It won't stop people with criminal intent, just as the current legislation didn't stop the problem of investment advisers (AFA's no less) stealing their clients' money.

Keep the commitments you make to your client

D.	Should minimum standards for ethical behaviour for the provision of financial advice extend beyond strict legal obligations, to include meeting less formal understandings, impressions or expectations that do not necessarily amount to strictly legal obligations? If no, please give reasoning. If yes, please propose how a standard for such commitments might be framed. Ethical behaviour is obvious and logical, if someone needs to be told this stuff they are not suitable to be anyone's financial adviser.
E.	If there was a minimum standard requiring Financial Advice Providers – or Financial Advice Providers in some situations – to have their own code of ethics in addition to the Code, how would you frame the requirement for it to deal with keeping commitments?

Manage and fully disclose conflicts of interest

F.	Should the Code include a minimum standard on conflicts of interest in addition to the legislation? A description on situations that constitute a conflict of interest would be helpful as I have come across situations where I needed to get advice on how to proceed.

Do no harm to the client or the profession

G.	Do you agree that a person who gives financial advice must not do anything or make an omission that would or would be likely to bring the financial advice profession into disrepute? If not, please set out your reasoning. Obviously, isn't this set out in the current legislation?
H.	Is an additional minimum standard on doing no harm to the client necessary? If so, what standard do you propose?

Keep your client's data confidential

I.	In which situations, if any, should the retention, use or sharing of anonymised bulk customer data be subject to Code standards?
J.	Do you agree that the Code should cover the various aspects of maintaining client confidentiality discussed in this paper?
K.	Are there other aspects of maintaining client confidentiality to consider?

Ethical processes in Financial Advice Provider entities

L.	Do you agree that the Code should require the Financial Advice Provider to document and maintain its "ethical processes"?
M.	Should the Financial Advice Provider be required to have a publicly available corporate code of ethics? Are there particular situations where a corporate code of ethics should be or should not be required?
N.	Should Financial Advice Providers also be subject to additional standards in respect of leadership and culture? If so, how should these be framed?
O.	Do you propose other additional standards of ethical behaviour that should apply to Financial Advice Providers?

Ethics training

P.	Do you agree that Financial Advice Providers should be required to meet standards relating to ethics training? If not, please state your reasoning. Yes
----	--

Q.	Should ethics training requirements apply to all officers and employees of a Financial Advice Provider, as appropriate to their role and contribution to the process of financial advice provision? If not, please state your reasoning. Yes, the big issue for me is people being sold inferior insurance products by the banks, by people who do not know their products are inferior with the driving motive of reaching sales targets. This does not put the clients first at any level.
R.	Should there be a requirement for ongoing refresher training on ethics? Yes, aimed at staff of banks.

Resolving ethical dilemmas

S.	Do you agree that Financial Advice Providers should be required to have in place, and use, a framework for resolving ethical dilemmas that may arise in giving financial advice? If not, please set out your reasoning. Yes.

Compliance functions

T.	Should there be a requirement for explicit sign-off on the soundness of financial advice provided directly by a Financial Advice Provider?
U.	Do you agree that Financial Advice Providers should be required to have in place a compliance function aimed at following up on concerns raised by employees and other stakeholders? If not, please set out your reasoning.
V.	Should this extend further into an internal audit obligation, having in place processes to systematically test for and detect violations of ethical behaviour?
W.	Are there any potential compliance costs for small and/or large Financial Advice Providers that need to be considered?

Responsibility for the whole advice process

X.	Do you agree that Financial Advice Providers should be required to be able to demonstrate that they meet the standards of ethical behaviour as if the Financial Advice Provider carried out the whole advice process directly itself? If not, please set out your reasoning.

Reinforcing good ethical behaviour

Y.	What principle or mechanism do you propose the Code could include to reinforce good ethical behaviour on a day-to-day basis?

Conduct and client care

Advice situations

Share your views
Z.	Are there other delivery methods that should be considered when testing our thinking?

Advice-giving standards

AA.	How do the current client care standards work in practice, especially in advice-giving situations not previously covered by the AFA Code? In answering this question, please ignore “scope of advice” (CS-8) and “suitability” (CS-9 and part of CS-10).
BB.	Could any aspect of the current client care standards be worded better? (For example, we are aware that the definition of “complaint” could be improved.)
CC.	Are there any aspects of the current client care standards that could be expanded or clarified (for example, in light of the published findings of the Disciplinary Committee)?
DD.	Are there any potential compliance costs for small and/or large Financial Advice Providers that need to be considered?

EE.	Are there any additional matters that should be addressed in the advice-giving standards? Those listed above? Others?

Advice process

FF.	Do you think there are any other components that should be included in the design considerations of an advice process?
GG.	Should the Code include guidance material to help determine what needs to be considered when designing an advice process?
HH.	Are there any other important aspects you think should be included in the advice process for all types of financial advice activities under the new regime?
II.	Should any of the key aspects that we have listed above be removed? If so, why?
JJ.	Are there any situations in which an advice process need not be followed?

Personalised suitability

KK.	What comments do you have about a proposed minimum standard on personalised suitability analysis? What are your views on the example above?

Organisational standards

LL.	What are the practical advantages and disadvantages of including organisational standards as described? What explanatory material or examples could we provide in the Code that might help to make these standards easier to comply with in practice?
MM.	Would implementing these organisational conduct and client care standards create a particular compliance burden for your firm? If yes, please explain why.

General competence, knowledge and skills

Share your views
NN.	Do you agree with our interpretation of the meaning of “competence, knowledge, and skills”? If not, why not? Yes
OO.	Are there other factors, which contribute to combined expertise , that we have not listed? We are particularly interested in factors that are relevant to financial advice that is given by a Financial Advice Provider directly, including by digital means.
PP.	What do you think are the advantages of this approach to general competence, knowledge and skills?
QQ.	What do you think are the disadvantages of this approach to general competence, knowledge and skills?
RR.	In what ways do you think this proposed standard contributes to, or detracts from, the legislative purposes (for example ensuring the quality and availability of advice, avoiding unnecessary compliance costs, and promoting innovation and flexibility)?
SS.	What factors should we consider in determining whether to make the proposed unit standard a renewing obligation?

Particular competence, knowledge and skills

Share your views
TT.	What are the advantages and disadvantages of our approach of identifying two types of financial advice? What impact would it have on the type of advice you give and on your compliance costs?
UU.	How should RFA’s experience be recognised? Years in the business and a complete lack of disputes/complaints. Audit of files and a demonstration of competence.

VV.	What do you think are the advantages of this approach to particular competence, knowledge, and skill?
WW.	What do you think are the disadvantages of this approach to particular competence, knowledge, and skill?
XX.	In what ways do you think this proposed standard contributes to, or detracts from, the legislative purposes (for example ensuring the quality and availability of advice, avoiding unnecessary compliance costs, and promoting innovation and flexibility)? My concern here is if the new requirements are expensive and/or too difficult, there will be a massive reduction in adviser numbers. Wouldn't this be a counterproductive situation for the public? We are constantly told NZ is under insured, yet we (advisers) are yet again threatened with increasing overheads and compliance requirements.
YY.	What alterations, if any, would you suggest to the baselines we have nominated: specialist strand for product capability, Level 5 for discipline capability, and relevant degree (or other degree plus Level 6) for planning capability? Any education standard needs to be relevant to the type of advice. I went through the level 5 course in 2009 and was shocked at how much of that course was not relevant to what I do on a day to day basis.
